Exercise 1: Scripting `Siri`

- Identify and list all the functions that A.I. has in our lives.

- Create a character that interacts with their A.I.

- Consider who the character is, where they are, what kind of personality the computer takes on.

- Script a conversation between the two.

Workshop: Exercise 2 — Staging Sitcom

Exercise 2: Staging Sitcom

- Think of an embarrassing story that has really happened to you.

- Dramatise it as a scene in the style of a TV sitcom.

- Think about what conventions you want to use to film it.

- Film your scene in one take, using set and props from around your home.

Workshop: Exercise 3 – Writing Advice

Click video above!

Exercise 3: Scripting Advice

- Choose one or more of the questions we got sent from within the show. It could come from the clip you just watched, or you may remember another question from earlier on.

- Think about what advice you have to give that person and write a letter in response.

- Write to either that one person individually, or write to a collective of people.

Thanks for taking part!
