Deadline: Friday 26 June 2026

We want to work with artists and educators who have a genuine passion for developing creativity through theatre with young people, people who are exceptional communicators and experienced facilitators, and people who have knowledge of working in contemporary theatre.

We are seeking artists located in Essex, London or the North East or the North West of England in order to meet growing demand for our programme of practical devised theatre workshops in schools and colleges. We are particularly interested in applications from artists from the global majority in a strive to better represent within our staff team, the young people we work with in schools nationally.

Last academic year we worked in over 250 schools both here in the UK and internationally. We are recognised as leaders in the field of physical/verbatim workshops for students of GCSE and A Level Drama. We want to expand our pool of artists in order to reach and inspire more young people throughout the world with our engaging workshops exploring the 5 Key ingredients of our work; Verbatim, Movement, Character & Narrative, Exposing the Method, and Motif.

We are seeking artists who are experienced facilitators, excellent collaborators, and with availability to work in an ad hoc fashion. This is a freelance role with potential to join our core team moving forward for the right person/people.

The Paper Birds

Training and development will begin in August 2026 and the role will be a flexible ongoing arrangement incorporating freelance dates. Our aim is to build a pool of trained collaborators who are free and able to work in other roles that fit alongside their work with us.

The role will most suit those who have their own vehicle, as there is lots of travelling to school locations required daily (all travel costs will be met by the company). International travel is also programmed throughout the year, so a valid passport is desirable. An enhanced DBS check will be carried out and covered by the company. If a candidate has questions or wants to talk about anything that may come up on their DBS, we encourage them to request a confidential meeting to discuss this prior to or during the application process.

Rates of Pay

£135 per half day workshop

£160 per full day workshop

- Plus all travel and accommodation costs.
- Per diems paid per night away from home.
- All training dates will be paid.
- All training travel & accommodation costs will be met by the company.

You must be available for an audition/workshop (provisionally) Tuesday 14 July 2026, (location TBC, but likely to be London) as well as a workshop intensive training day in August 2026 - details to follow.

To Apply

Please send us your CV and a short self-tape (under 2 mins), introducing yourself, your work and why you'd like to work at The Paper Birds. Please also fill out this:
